ECLIPSES in the Year 1796.

THERE will be four Eclipses this Year, as was mentioned in the Almanack part of last year's Register, viz. three of the Sun, and one of the Moon; they will happen in the following order.

I. The first will be of the Sun on Sunday the 10th day of January, at 23 minutes after 1 o'clock in the morning, but to us invisible, though it will be annular and central (appearing like a Ring) on the meridian, in long. 159 E. from Boston, and lat. 21 S. It will happen in the 20th degree of the celestial Goat.

II. The second will also be of the Sun, on Monday the 4th day of July. The ecliptic conjunction will be at 19 minutes after 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The Eclipse will begin with us a little after 7 o'clock; and the Sun will set a little eclipsed, though scarcely visible; but it will be totally eclipsed on the meridian, in long. 94 deg. west of Boston, & lat. 36 N. in the 14th deg. of the Crab.

III. The third will be of the Moon, on Wednesday the 14th day of December, at half after 9 o'clock, A.M.

IV. The fourth will be of the Sun, on Thursday the 29th day of December, at 17 minutes after 1 o'clock in the morning, invisible to us; but it will be annular and central on the meridian in long. 162 degrees east from Boston, and lat. 65 degrees south. It will happen in the 9th degree of the celestial Goat.

There will also be four Eclipses in 1797, viz. two of the Sun and two of the Moon; they will happen, two of them in June and the other two in December.

The Planet [♀] will be Occidental, or Evening Star, from the beginning of this Year to the 5th day of August, when she will be in conjunction with the Sun; from thence she will be Oriental, or our morning Star to the end of the Year — Venus performs her journey round the Sun once in 224 days and 17 hours; and moves in her orbit at the rate of 69,000 miles in an hour, which is equal to a velocity of 1150 miles in a minute; a degree of swiftness above 190 times greater than that of a cannon ball.

MASSACHUSETTS REGISTER

FOR 1796.

BY T. AND J. FLEET.

Situation & Boundaries of the United States, agreeably to the Limits established by the Definitive Treaty of Peace between the United States and Great-Britain, ratified on the third day of September, 1783.

Situated between 31 and 49 deg. of N. Latitude, and 9 E. and 24 deg. W. Longitude from Philadelphia.—Bounded on the northwest and north by the highlands which lie to the eastward of the River St. Lawrence, and which divide the rivers which fall into the St. Lawrence from those which fall into the Atlantic; by upper Canada, the river Iroquois or Cataraguay, the Lakes, viz. Lake Ontario, lake Erie, lake Huron, lake Superior, the long lake, the lake of the Woods, and a line drawn due west from the northwesternmost angle of the last mentioned lake to the river Mississippi: On the west, by the river Mississippi: On the south, by West Florida, East Florida, and St. Mary's river: On the east, by the Atlantic ocean, the river St. Croix, and Nova-Scotia: Comprehending all islands within twenty leagues of the coast,

It is computed, that the surface contained within the above boundaries is one million of square miles; which amounts to 640,000,000 of acres. Of this 51,000,000 of acres are water. So the land within the United States amounts to 589,000,000 of acres. About three fifths of which are comprised within the States that now compose the Union. The remaining 220,000,000 of acres, lying west of the northern and middle States, and northwest of the river Ohio, and extending to the river Mississippi, with an extensive territory south of the Ohio, originally ceded to the United States by North and South-Carolina and Georgia, form the South and North Western Territory, the River Ohio being the boundary line between them.

Each State, as also the district of Maine, forms a district and is denominated by the name of the State which composes it. Of these districts, excepting Maine & Kentucky are formed three circuits, called the Eastern, Middle, and the Southern circuit. Each district has a Judge, called district Judge, who, without any associate Judge, forms district court. He is required to hold, within his district four sessions annually, and is also empowered to hold special sessions, if occasion requires, either at the places required by law, for holding the stated terms, or elsewhere at his discretion.

The Circuit Court is composed of one of the Judges of the Supreme Court (or in some special cases, of two) and the district judge of any district where it is, hoc tempore to be held. This Court must hold two sessions annually in every district of each circuit, except Vermont, where it holds but one. Special sessions may also be held.

For the several jurisdictions of each of these Courts, see the 9th, 10th, 11th and 13th sections of the Act of Congress, entitled, "An Act to establish the Judicial Courts of the United States," passed Sept. 24, 1789.

CALCULATION of Population and Deaths.

IF we take for granted, that the aggregate population of the known habitable globe is estimated at about one thousand millions of people; and if we reckon with the ancients, that a generation lasts 33 years, in that space one thousand millions human beings will be born and die.

Therefore the number of deaths is every

Year, 30,000,000	Minute, 60
Day, 82,000	Second, 1
Hour, 3,400

But as the number of Deaths is to the number of Births as 10 to 12, there are born every

Year, 36,000,000	Minute, 72
Day, 98,400	Second, 1 1-10th
Hour, 4,080

If persons were not to die, there would at present be about 173,000 millions living upon earth; and as the known continent of the world contains, at least, 1587 billions, [twice millions] of square feet, there would still be for each inhabitant 9100 square feet.

Counting three generations for an age, and taking for certain, that the world is 5700 years old, we find there were since the creation 171 generations, 124 since the deluge, and 53 since the birth of Christ.

The number of the inhabitants of a country or of a city is renewed almost every 30 years, and in 100 years the human race is renewed 3 & 1-3d times.

Of all the inhabitants of a country, one fourth are living in towns, and three fourths in the country.

By comparing the bills of mortality of divers countries, it was found, that annually die in the villages 1 out of 40, in the small cities, 1 out of 32. In the middling towns, 1 out of 28. And in the large cities, 1 out of 24. Of a whole country, we count 1 out of 36. Of 1000 we may count that 28 die annually.

Of 1000 infants that are nursed by the mother, 300 die; but of the same number committed to the charge of a strange nurse, 500 perish.

From calculations founded on the bills of mortality, there is only one out of 3125 that reaches the age of 100.

Men live every where to the age of 90 and 100, if their lives are not shortened by external accidents.

More people live to a great age in elevated situations, than in those that are lower.

The number of widowers and widows, is to that of marriages as 3 to 7.

Births that happen before 9 months, are more frequent than those after 9 months.

Of the whole number of female inhabitants of a country, the 18th only is brought to bed annually.

It is confirmed by experience, and by the observations of physicians, that in large towns out of 100 persons, there are through the year never more than 20 sick for the space of a month, or 24 for a fortnight.

From divers bills of mortality, a calculation has been made how long a person of a certain age may with probability hope to live. The following result of that calculation will be found useful to those who enquire on lives.

It is probable that a new born child will live to the age of 34 years and 6 months.

Age. will live, Months.			Age. will live, Months.
1 year.	41 years,	9	45 years,	23
3	46	4	50	20	11
5	46	4	55	17
10	44	9	60	14	2
15	41	6	65	11	5
20	38	3	70	8	11
25	35	3	75	6	8
30	32	3	80	4	10
35	29	8	85	3	3
40	26	6	90	2

The age of 7 years is that in which we may hope yet to live the greatest number of years.

At the age of 12 to 13 we have passed one quarter of our life, at 28 and 29 we are in the midst of life, wit 50 we have passed away three quarters of it.

It appears from the bills of mortality, that the women after having passed a certain age, generally live longer than men.

Comparing the number of deaths, we find that the number of men is to that of women, as 27 is to 25.

Married women live longer than those who are n married.

The number of widowers, and widows, is to that marriages, as 3 to 7.

By observations made during the space of 50 years, it has been found that the greatest number of deaths have been in the months of March, September and August ; and the fewest in November, December and February.

The half of all that are born, die before they reach the age of 17, so that those who out-live that period more or less, enjoy a preference, which one half of the human race does not attain.

The number of old persons who die during cold weather are to those who die during the warm season , as 7 to 4.

The first month, especially the first day after birth, are marked by the greatest number of deaths; of 2735 infants, who die young, 1292 die on the first day, and the remainder during the first month.

The most healthy children are born in the months of January, February and March.

The number of those who die annually is to the births as 10 to 12 or 13.

The married women are to the whole female inhabitants of a country as 1 to 3. The married men to all the males as 3 to 5.

The number of boys above 13 years is to the whole number of inhabitants of a country as 4 to 33; and the girls above 13, to the whole as 3 to 25.

The number of males, born annually, is to the number of females as 21 to 20, but as in their infancy 2-25th more boys die than girls, the number of males & females is towards the age of maturity equal.

The number of twins is to that of the whole number of single births as 1 to 65.

The number of marriages is to that of the inhabitants of a civilized country as 175 to 1000.

In a well peopled country we may count but one out of 50 annually that marries.

In country places there are on an average 4 children born of each marriage ; in large towns we can reckon but 35 children to 10 marriages.

We may always reckon one quarter of the male inhabitants of a country to be able of carrying arms.

The number of widows is to that of widowers, as 3 to 1, but that of widows who re-marry to that of widowers as 4 to 6.

The number of widows is to the number of the whole inhabitants as 1 to 51, that of widowers as 1 to 15.

Useful and necessary TABLES.

By an Act of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, all Money Accounts after the 1st Day of September 1795, are to be the Dollar, Cent & Mille; the following TABLE shewing the Number of Cents, and Decimal Parts of Cents (or Milles) in any Number of Shillings and Pence to the amount of a Dollar at 6*s.* being the Currency of said Commonwealth, is therefore very useful for that Purpose.—The Act is not to nullify any Account originally made, or to be made, or any Note, Bond, or other Instrument, expressed in any Money of Account, but are to be reduced to Dollars and its parts, before any Suit at Law can be had thereon.

Of Interest of MONEY.

INTEREST of Money is the Sum payable by the borrower to the lender for the use thereof, and is sometimes called Use, sometimes Interest of money. It is called Use or Usury, because it is paid by the borrower for using the same; and it is called Interest, as it respects the lender, because it is the money due to him for his interest therein, or property thereto. —

So that the money lent is called Principal, the money paid for the use is called Interest, which when only paid for the use of that originally lent, is called Simple Interest. But when this is not paid when due, but becomes principal money, the use of these two together, that is, the first principal money lent, and the interest due thereupon, is called Compound Interest.

The person to whom money is due from another is sometimes called Creditor, sometimes Usurer, sometimes Mortgagee. And the person owing such money is called, with respect to the lender, a Debtor or Mortgager.

One man is commonly said to be Debtor to another, when he is any ways indebted, whether upon account of trade or of borrowing money without security of land, &c. And he is Creditor that gives such person credit.

When one man lends another money, and requires a land security for the payment thereof, in this case he that makes over his land as a security, is called the Mortgager, and he to whom the same is made over, is called the Mortgagee. But when any moveable is delivered as a security to the lender, it is commonly called a pawn or pledge, and they that lend money upon such security are called Pawn-brokers.

The sum paid for the use of £. 100 for a year, which by the law of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is 6 per cent. is called the rate of interest.

Compound Interest, is that which is paid for any principal sum, and the simple Interest due upon it for any time, accumulating into one principal sum. For Example, If £. 100 is lent out for one year at 6 l. and if at the end of that year the 6 l. due of Interest be added to the principal, and the sum 106 l. be considered as a new principal bearing interest for the next year, this is called compound Interest, because there is Interest upon Interest.

A TABLE of Simple Interest at 6 per Cent.

For any Sum from £.1 to £.1000.

The Editors conceiving it would be useful to Merchants trading with France, to have a concise Table, shewing how our method of computing time corresponds with that lately adopted by the French Republic, have here inserted an account of their mode, by which may be seen on what day, and in what month of their callender in ours will fall. This short Table will not only be useful to the merchant, but by it every citizen may easily understand the French dates that are daily met with in our news-papers and other publications.

By a decree of the National Convention of France, the year of the French republic begins on the 22d day of September, the time when the Sun enters the sign of Libra, or the Balance: It is divided into twelve months of thirty days each, which are called,

Vendemaire, or	Vintage Month,	}	Autumn.
Brumaire,	Fog Month,
Frumaire,	Sleet Month,
Nivose,	Snow Month,	}	Winter.
Pluviose,	Rain Month,
Ventose,	Wind Month,
Germinal,	Sprouts Month,	}	Spring.
Florial,	Flowers Month,
Prairiale,	Pasture Month,
Messidor,	Harvest Month,	}	Summer.
Thermidor,	Hot Month,
Fructidor,	Fruit Month,

As these twelve Months, of thirty days each, make but 360 days, they add five complementary days to the end of the year, which fall on the 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st days of our September, and are called Sansculotides. In leap year, they add a sixth day, which is called the Sansculotide, on which day, that is once in every four year, national games are to be celebrated; and on which day there is to be a National Renovation of their Oath, "To live free or die."

The Sans Culotides are Feasts dedicated to

Les Vertus, or the Virtues,	L'Opinion, or Opinion,
Le Genie, or Genius,	Les Recompenses, Reward.
Le Travail, or Labour,

The Months are divided into Decades, consisting of ten days each, the names of which are called, from the Latin,

January, when the 20th will be the 1st of Pluviose .	18th is 1st Fructidor
January 21st is 2d	Septem. 1st is 15th

	Decemb. 1st is 11th
	21st is 1st Nivose .

The above TABLE scarcely needs any Explanation respecting the difference between the dates of the days of the month now used by the French, and those to which the English have been accustomed; for if January 1st is the 12th of Nivose—the 2d the 13th—the 3d the 14th, the same order will continue to the 19th, when the 20th begins the 1st of Pluviose during the remainder of January and to February 19th, when it then becomes the 1st of Ventose, and so by the same rule in respect to the succeeding months.

On TIME.

TIME, by Philosophers is said to be an Estate. An Estate indeed, which will produce nothing without cultivation, but will always abundantly repay the labour of industry, and satisfy the most extensive desires, if no part of it be suffered to lie waste by negligence, to be over-run with noxious plants, or laid out for show rather than for use.

By an Act of Congress passed in January 1795, the valuation of all goods, wares and merchandize, subject to the payment of duties ad valorem, shall be made upon the actual cost at the place of exportation, including all charges (commissions, outside packages and insurance only excepted) and that the duty on any wines imported shall not be less than ten cents per gallon, and the bottles, in which any liquors are imported, are to be subject to the same duty as empty bottles.

Note, As Vessels employed in the Coasting Trade and Fisheries are not chargeable but with one tonnage in a year, no injury can be experienced on taking a new License in the District where she belongs before the old one expires.

When any wines are permitted to be landed, either in pipe, butt, hoghead, cask, case, box, or package, they are to be marked by the officer under whose immediate inspection the same shall be landed, in legible and durable characters, with progressive numbers, the name of the said officer, and the quality and kind of wine; who is to grant a certificate for each such pipe, butt, hoghead, cask, case, box or package, specifying therein the name of the importer, the vessel in which the same shall be imported, and the number thereof, to accompany the same wherever it shall be sent.—The same with regard to tea.

Therefore, conceiving that the intercourse of one extremity of the United States to the other, will frequently, in commercial States, render it necessary to reduce the currency of the one to the other, the following Rules may be useful, viz.

1. To reduce Massachusetts, &c. currency, dollars at 6s. to New York and North Carolina, to any given sum, add its third part; and vice versa, subtract a fourth part.

2. To reduce Massachusetts, &c. to New Jersey, &c. currency, add to any given sum its fourth part; and vice versa, subtract a fifth part.

Convey the person to the nearest convenient house, with his head raised; strip and dry him as quick as possible; clean the mouth and nostrils from froth and mud; if it is a child, let him be placed between two persons naked, in a hot bed; but if an adult, lay him on a hot blanket or bed, and, in cold weather, near a fire—in warm weather, the air should be freely admitted into the room. The body is next to be gently rubbed with warm woollen cloths sprinkled with spirits, if at hand, otherwise dry; a heated warming pan may be now lightly moved over the back, properly covered with a blanket; and the body, if of a child, to be gently shook every few minutes: Whilst these means are using, one or two assistants are to be employed in blowing up tobacco smoke into the fundament, with the instrument provided for that purpose, or a tobacco pipe, if that cannot be had—the bowl filled with tobacco and properly lighted, being covered with a handkerchief, or piece of linen, so as to defend the mouth of the assistant from blowing: Bathe the breast with hot rum, and persist in the use of these means for several hours.— If no signs of life should then appear, let the body be kept warm for several hours longer, with hot bricks, or vessels of hot water, applied to the palms of the hands and soles of the feet; and this for a longer or shorter time, as the circumstances of the case may dictate.

Harvard College was founded A.D. 1636.

Since which time to the present year, 3438 Students have been graduated there, including some who have had honorary degrees bestowed upon them, and those admitted from other Colleges ad eundem.

The following are the names of the nine young gentlemen who first had the degree of Bachelor of Arts conferred on them at that Seminary in 1642, under the tuition of Henry Dunster, the first President, viz.

Benja. Woodbridge	William Hubbard	Henry Saltonstall
George Downing	Sam. Bellingham	Tobias Barnard
John Bulkley	John Willson	Nathaniel Brewster

And, as it may gratify the curiosity of some persons to know the characters, and what became of those "first-born of Harvard," the following account of them is taken from Hutchinson's History of Massachusetts, V. I. p. 110.

"Most of them soon went to England, and made some figure there. Woodbridge was a moderate episcopalian, and successor to the celebrated Dr. Twisse at Newberry.

Downing, who was brother in law to Gov. Bradstreet, went into the army, and was scout-master general of the English army in Scotland; he was in great favor with Cromwell, and sent ambassador to Holland, and upon the restoration, he turned with the times, and was knighted. His character runs low with historians, and it was a proverbial expression in New England, to say of a false man who betrayed his trust, 'that he was an arrant George Downing.' The sermons he preached in Oliver's time were printed, & three pictures drew of him. 1st, Preaching in a tub, over it, this I was. 2d, A treacherous courtier, over it, this I am. 3d, Hanging on a gibbet, over it, this I shall be. He died in 1684.

Bulkley, son of Mr. Bulkley, minister at Concord, was a settled preacher at Fordham, in Essex, and after his ejection in 1662, practised physic in London.

Saltonstall, son of Sir Richard, was a doctor of physic, and a fellow of the new college, Oxford.

Brewster was a settled minister in the county of Norfolk.

Bellingham received the degree of doctor of physic at Leyden, and practised with great reputation.

Hubbard and Willson were settled ministers in New-Eng and in high esteem among the people."

No account is given of Barnard, 'tis supposed he died soon after leaving the College.

Counties of Hancock and Washington.

The County of Hancock contains 17 incorporated Towns and 4 unincorporated Plantations ; for the Names of which see page 68, they have but four settled Congregational Ministers in that County, viz. Peter Powers, at Deer Isle, Daniel Merrill at Sedgwick, Setb Noble, at Bangor, and Jonathan Powers, at Penobscot ; there is a Baptist Church, Thomas Eames, Pastor, at Isleborough, and a Methodist Society at Penobscot.

In Washington County there are only two incorporate Towns, viz. Machias and Steuben (late No. 4.) the others are Plantations, see page 69. The Rev. Mr. Brown, of Machias, is the only settled Minister in that County.

The anniversary Convention of the Congregational Ministers of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, is held at Boston on the Thursday next following the last Wednesday in May ; on which day, after transacting their usual business, a Sermon is preached before them at the first or Old Brick Meeting-House, and a Collection made for the charitable purpose of relieving distressed Clergymen or their Widows. — The Rev. Dr. Belknap, of Boston is to preach the next Sermon ; but, in case of failure, the Rev. Dr. Tappan, of Cambridge, is to officiate in his stead.

The Rev. Dr. Morse, of Charlestown, is their Scribe.

The Warren, Baptist Association, is to meet this year at Charlton, on the Tuesday after the first Wednesday in September, at 2 o'Clock, P. M.

Episcopalian Bishops in America.

Samuel Seabury, Bishop in Connecticut,
Samuel Provost, Bishop at New York,
William White, Bishop in Pennsylvania,
Thomas J. Clagget, Bishop in Maryland,
James Maddison, Bishop in Virginia,
George Inglis, Bishop at Nova Scotia,
Robert Smith, Bishop for South Carolina,
Jacob Mountain, Bishop in Canada,
 Dr. Peters is Bishop elect for Vermont.

By the returns made to the last Episcopalian Convention it appears that since 1783 there have been formed in the several States 300 Congregations of that Denomination and in 140 Clergymen have come from England, or been ordained by the Bishops in the States.

Practitioners of the Law, before admission, are to take the following OATH in open Court.

YOU solemnly swear that you will do no falsehood, nor consent to the doing of any in Court, and if you know of an intention to commit any, you will give knowledge thereof to the Court, or some of them, that it may be prevented: You will not wittingly or willingly promote or sue any false, groundless, or unlawful Suit, nor give aid or consent to the same: You will delay no man for lucre or malice; but you will conduct yourself in the office of an Attorney within the Courts according to your best knowledge and discretion, and with all good fidelity, as well to the Court as your Clients. So help you God.

OF LAW.

LAW, in general, is defined to be a certain rule for the good government of mankind in society. This rule or law is nothing but a decree by which the law-giver obliges those that are subject to him to accommodate their actions to the directions prescribed therein; but in order that a law may exert its force it is requisite that the law-giver and the law should be both publickly-known.

Civil, or human laws, considered with respect to the Legislator's two offices, of judging and compelling, may be divided into distributive and penal. Distributive law, is that which gives every subject what properly belongs to him, forbidding others to injure him either in his privileges or property: and penal law is that which determines, or appoints, what punishments shall be inflicted on those who violate the distributive laws.
